

about, Jane.

After earning a Bachelor's degree in Social Work from the University of South Dakota and a Master's degree in Social Work from the University of Kansas, Jane became licensed in Minnesota as a Licensed Independent Clinical Social Worker (LICSW).

From 1990 to present, Jane worked as a medical social worker, helping children and adults endure challenging situations within hospital, hospice, home health and clinic settings. Her passion has always been to listen to their worries, hurts and fears while teaching skills to help build their inner strength and resilience.

The gratification of seeing the strength of character evolve amidst hardship speaks to the power of the mind-body partnership to build, strengthen & sustain!
